SMSC - at the heart of Greenside!

Greenside has a World Ready & Test Ready Experiential Learning Model (through Film & the Arts)
We believe in: Breaking Boundaries and that 'Learning is Everything & Everything is Learning'
SMSC is at the heart of everything we do at Greenside - this vision drives our curriculum and how we learn.
We inspire, nurture & challenge our students to be kind, to be leaders by engaging with the world & 'big questions' and to make the world a better place.

Our SMSC programme is delivered across the 9.00am - 9.30am slot each Monday - Thursday and it is also implicit & explicit in all we do, how we behave and in what we learn. It is part of our 8-year journey based on 'big questions' and our World Ready learning.

Our learning takes place through STAR Days, Film Crew Days, Specialisms and SMSC.
Our holistic and linked learning approach weaves together RHE, World Religions and other strands of Student Personal Development.
This ensures information is appropriate, relevant and set within a social context.

B. SMSC

We co-create a wide, rich & diverse different opportunities for our students to engage in discussion, exploration and via a WeAct approach to the Big Questions in the world - including the ideas set out below.

Social	Moral	Spiritual	Cultural
To use a range of social skills in different contexts, for example working and socialising with other students, including those from different religious, ethnic and socio-economic backgrounds	To recognise the difference between right and wrong and to readily apply this understanding in their own lives	To be reflective about their own beliefs, religious or otherwise, that inform their perspective on life and their interest in and respect for different people's faiths, feelings and values	To show an understanding and appreciation of the wide range of cultural influences that have shaped their own heritage and those of others
To participate in a variety of communities and social settings, including by volunteering, cooperating well with others	To recognise legal boundaries and, in so doing, respect the civil and criminal law of England	To have a sense of enjoyment and fascination in learning about themselves, others and the world around them	To understand and appreciate the range of different cultures within school and further afield as an essential element of their preparation for life
To accept & engage with the fundamental British values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs; they develop and demonstrate skills and attitudes that will allow them to participate fully in and contribute positively to life in modern Britain.	To understand the consequences of their behaviour and actions	To use imagination and creativity in their learning	To demonstrate a knowledge of Britain's democratic parliamentary system and its central role in shaping our history and values, and in continuing to develop Britain

E. Relationships and Sex Education

The DfE 'continues to recommend that all primary schools should have a sex education programme tailored to the age and physical and emotional maturity of the students' (Relationships Education, 2020).

The Relationships Education content outlined in C & D above covers everything that primary schools should teach about relationships and health, including puberty. The national curriculum for science also includes subject content in related areas, such as the main external body parts, the human body as it grows from birth to old age (including puberty) and reproduction in some plants and animals.

It is important that the transition phase before moving to secondary school supports students' ongoing emotional and physical development effectively. The National Curriculum states that schools should ensure that both girls and boys are prepared for the changes that adolescence brings and – drawing on knowledge of the human life cycle set out in the national curriculum for science.

At Greenside in Y6 the following areas will be covered with the Relationships and Sex Education offer as part of the Curriculum. We will inform and talk with parents/carers before these sessions.

* Naming parts of the body * Ways to keep safe & ask for help * Preparing for puberty * How a baby is made & develops * Personal hygiene & disease prevention

Our World Ready - SMSC & RHE programme is evaluated and reviewed annually as part of our self-evaluation cycle.
